Monika finds it: MICONOS TABLE LAMP

Spied it!

At the Hollywood
Roosevelt Hotel in
L.A. HOLLYWOOD

Designer Dodd Mitchell's poolside cabanas at this recently revamped hotel are the epitome of mod-rustic chic—but it was this space-age lamp that I was fawning over. I assumed it was vintage, so you can imagine my surprise when I stumbled onto a new stash of them in the Artemide showroom in NYC. Created in 1998 by Ernesto Gismondi, a former aeronautical engineer, the exposed bulb emanates what may be the world's only flattering incandescent light.
