In Los Cabos, sprawled across 12 acres of beachfront property, the recently opened Cabo Azul Resort & Spa redefines high-end resort living with outstanding villa suite amenities, fine dining, world-class spa services and an adjacent boutique hotel scheduled to open spring of 2008. Famed interior designer Dodd Mitchell has given Cabo Azul its luxurious look, seamlessly fusing bold, contemporary design elements with the stunning natural surroundings.

The resort's 332 well-appointed villa suites come with one to three bedrooms, fully equipped kitchens, bathrooms with oversize spa tubs and patios that overlook the azure bay. When not lounging in their posh accommodations, couples can sip cocktails in the swim-up cabana or beach bar, take a dip in the tri-level infinity-edge pool and enjoy massages at water's edge. The pampering continues at Cabo Azul's spa, where yin and yang-inspired treatments call on ancient Chinese concepts and metaphysics to rejuvenate from the inside out. Couples can also sign up for soothing soaks and treatments for two on the spa's rooftop VIP terrace.

Those who want to venture offsite don't have to go far to enjoy all that

Los Cabos has to offer. Comprised of the historic towns of San José del Cabo and Cabo San Lucas, the area promises endless adventure, exceptional Mexican cuisine, enriching cultural attractions, and evening entertainment. The hottest place to hang out at night may still be the resort's own beachfront nightclub, scheduled to open this summer.

An open-air, five-story wedding chapel with candlelit water walls provides the perfect venue for couples to tie the knot. In the same grand structure, couples can also reserve a party terrace and indoor reception area facing the Sea of Cortez. The resort's onsite wedding planner and catering staff can help coordinate all day-of details, presenting couples myriad options for customizing their dream event. Several bridal and honeymoon packages offer additional ways to personalize the stay.
